

The Oncology Connection

Horizon CME, providers of the APP Oncology Summit medical education series, publishes a newsletter The Oncology Connection. The Oncology Connection will be published quarterly with the goal of providing APPs practical and clinically relevant information that will allow them to optimally provide direct patient care including patient counseling, prescribing and managing treatments, and handling follow-up patient visits. Topic areas for the newsletter include:

1. An Editor-in-Chief Column
2. New Drugs
3. Hematology
4. Solid Tumors
5. Supportive Care
6. Professionalism
7. Clinician Stories
8. Clinical Questions
9. Financial Resources/Assistance

Article Submission Guidelines

Article

Article should contain text, in sequence of title, authors and their affiliations, main text part, references and figure/table captions list in a Word document, and supporting information if any. The figures are not included in the main text. Articles should be approximately 400-800 words. Article submissions should include a picture of each author for publication.

Reminder, this is a newsletter, not a peer-reviewed journal. Articles can be shorter, summarizations of a new finding, or something in your practice that you want to write about, including unique personal experiences in the clinic that are light-hearted and inspirational.

Please submit your articles to Crystal Navarro at crystal.navarro@horizoncme.com. If you were invited to submit an article by one of our Editors, please copy them when submitting your article. Include "The Oncology Connection" in the subject line of your submission e-mail. Articles should be sent as an attachment in Word. Please do not send .pdf format.

References should be formatted in APA style. See example below.

Dispenzieri, A., Buadi, F., Laumann, K., LaPlant, B., Hayman, S. R., Kumar, S. K.,...Lacy, M. Q. (2012). Activity of pomalidomide in patients with immunoglobulin lightchain amyloidosis. Blood, 119(23), 5397–5404.